

All workshops will be held on the second floor of the Carolina Union, unless otherwise noted. Films will be shown on the Great Hall Balcony. Requests for additional or repeat sessions will be considered by Dan Leonard.

Friday - April 1
3:00 pm - 4:00 pm

- 202 ASSERTIVENESS TRAINING - A mini-session to learn how to become more assertive. Participants will learn how to distinguish between aggressive, assertive and non-assertive behaviour; what non-productive beliefs block people from being assertive; to recognize and stand up for their rights as human beings. Participants will have an opportunity to role-play some situations in which they have problems being assertive. (A continuous session - two whole periods. 30 participants maximum.) Howard Fradkin, doctoral student in counseling, UNC-CH.
- 204 THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ACTIVIST AND NON-ACTIVIST GAYS - A definition of the problem and importance of the difference between activist and non-activist gays. Strategies will be presented on how to deal with non-activist attitudes. Eastern Gay Alliance, Greenville, N.C.
- 205 BRINGING OUT "STRAIGHT" MALES - Are gays ghettoized by a fear of being emotionally "out" to males we consider attractive and straight? A chance to discuss experiences, positive and negative, with non-gay defined males, and to look at our own straight role-playing. Allen Brown, CGA.
- 207 GAYS AND RELIGION - A sharing of religious experiences.
- 209 NEWSLETTERS - Larry Brown, CGA.
- 215 POPPERS: THEIR USE, ABUSE AND HOW TO MAKE YOUR OWN - Amyl and butyl nitrite are two drugs used extensively in the gay male community. There's a lot you should know about using them, and precautions to take when making your own. Tom Carr, graduate student, UNC-CH.
- 217 LESBIAN LIFESTYLES - A facilitated discussion. Women only.
- Film SOME OF YOUR BEST FRIENDS - Documents the gay liberation movement. Contains interviews with gay civil rights leaders, and shows scenes of various parades, anti-police harassment rallies and a confrontation between Gay Liberation Front members and aversion therapists.
